

bert and Sullivan Players, opening their 26th season at 3 p.m. on Wednesday with the first of 10 performances of "The Pirates of Penzance" at Symphony Space, 95th Street and Broadway. But that isn't all. Beginning on Jan. 6 the company will present 10 performances of "Princess Ida," with Frank Gorshin as the cantankerous King Gama. Information: (212) 864-5400.

Together Again

World premiere performances of a composition by Wynton Marsalis will bring together the forces of the New York Philharmonic and the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra under the baton of Kurt Masur for performances at 8 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday at Avery Fisher Hall. The second collaboration in the orchestras' history revolves around "All Rise," a work for three groups, the third group being the Morgan State University Choir. Mr. Marsalis, artistic director of the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra, said "All Rise" looks forward to a century of global community. "The search is on and when we finally find each other, the heat of recognition will cause souls to rise," he said. Information: (212) 721-6500.

In Welcome

A New Year's "Salute to Vienna" takes place at Avery Fisher at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday. It features the Strauss Symphony of America and dancers from the Vienna State Opera ballet. Information: (800) 545-7807.

LAWRENCE VAN GELDER